ICAM 2023 CALL FOR ABSTRACTS: CREATING A BETTER FUTURE FOR YOUR FACULTY

International Leaders Day, April 15, 2023

Academic Medicine Leaders have had to adapt to the realities of the pandemic and been the change agents for their faculties during these challenging times. Many lessons can be learned from this work, and we hope to create an opportunity to share this body of knowledge for a better future for all.

Faculty of Medicine Deans and Senior Leaders are invited to submit an abstract for an oral presentation during the International Leaders Day on Creating a Better Future for Your Faculty.

Please submit a brief abstract describing how you will create a better future for your faculty, learners and for the community you serve.

Oral Presentations

Submitters of accepted abstracts of oral presentations will be invited to attend the International Leaders Day (onsite and virtual) on Saturday, April 15, 2023. Submitters who accept the invitation will provide a brief oral presentation (3-5 minutes) during the Highlight Session. The presentation may include up to 3 slides or a poster to share with colleagues.

Abstracts for the International Leaders Day will be accepted until September 16, 2022 at 23:59 ET (-4 UTC).

Publication Notice

All accepted abstracts will be published in the Canadian Medical Education Journal (CMEJ).
